AGREED ON ARBITRATION

Satisfactory Plan Reached by the Panamerican Conference.

BASED ON HAGUE CONVENTION

Some of the Nations Will Sign Among Themselves a Scheme of Compulsory Arbitration.

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, Dec. 26. A substantial agreement on the subject of arbitration was practically reached today by the several delegations to the Panamerican conference.

Contrary to what had been anticipated, it is almost sure that the agreement is unanimous, including even Argentina, which country it was thought would refuse to sign any but a compulsory scheme of arbitration.

The basis of agreement is simply The Hague convention. All the nations represented at the conference at Mexico City will become parties to The Hague convention. They might join it independently, but as the United States and Mexico are already members of The Hague convention it has been concluded that they shall have the honor of introducing the other nations.

In addition, the nations to the conference other than the United States, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Nicaragua and perhaps one or two others, will sign among themselves a scheme of compulsory arbitration, but still accepting The Hague tribunal and The Hague procedure. This compulsory plan, however, will have effect only among the signatory nations and will not have the official sanction of the Panamerican conference.

A sentiment is growing up in favor of fixing January 5 as the definite date for the closing of the conference.

MARCONI TO CONTINUE WORK IN CAPE BRETON

By Associated Press.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 26. The steamer Bruce with Signor Marconi on board, arrived at North Sydney today. Marconi was met by Mr. Smith on behalf of the Canadian government, Premier Murray of the Nova Scotia government, Acting Mayor McKenzie of North Sydney. Mr. Marconi and the government representatives held a short conference and Marconi afterwards expressed a desire to place on record his appreciation of the courtesy shown him by the Canadian government and its desires to further his experiments. He thinks it probable that a spot in Cape Breton will be selected for a permanent station and also says that the point chosen must be from 100 to 200 feet above the sea line. Premier Murray thinks Louisburg, Mira or the Sydneys would be suitable places.

Marconi will remain in Cape Breton a few days and then proceed to Ottawa. Manager Moxham has offered the inventor the use of his estate at Sydney. Mr. Marconi said that it was not probable that he would resume experiments in Newfoundland.

When asked as to the present stage of his experiments in telegraphing across the Atlantic, Marconi said that up to the present only one letter continuously repeated had been received.

THE DEATH OF GOVERNOR ROGERS OF WASHINGTON

By Associated Press.

Olympia, Wash., Dec. 26. Governor Rogers died at 8 o'clock tonight.

Governor John H. Rogers was taken sick Friday evening with a cold which developed into pneumonia. Sunday his condition was such as to alarm his friends and Monday afternoon the governor was much better and it was thought the danger had been passed. A consultation of physicians was held and it developed the fact that the patient was progressing as well as could be expected.

Tuesday Dr. Miller said the governor was suffering from lobar pneumonia. The disease was then located in the middle lobe of the right lung. It was impossible to say until Wednesday it was passed whether the disease would spread. Favorable symptoms continued but early today the governor was suddenly taken worse and succumbed at 8 o'clock this evening.

John H. Rogers was born in Brunswick, Maine, September 1, 1838. From 1852 to 1856 he was a drug clerk in Boston and for the next four years was engaged in the drug business in Jackson, Miss. He taught school for several years in Illinois and in 1876 moved to Wichita, Kan., where he was editor of the Kansas Commoner. During his residence in Kansas Governor Rogers became a Farmers Alliance organizer. In 1890 he removed to the state of Washington where he was elected to the legislature. In 1896 he was elected governor on the fusion ticket and re-elected in 1900. Governor Rogers was the author of several works on political economy. Among them "The Irrepressible Conflict," "Looking Forward" and "The Inalienable Rights of Man."

METHODIST WOMEN WIN PLACE IN CONFERENCE

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Dec. 26. Announcement was made here today that the new constitution of the Methodist Episcopal church which was adopted at the last general conference of that denomination held at the Auditorium in 1900 and referred to the various conferences throughout the country has finally been approved by the three-quarters vote required. The vote is as follows: Ayes, 5,938; nays, 2,231.

The element which opposed the new humane law of the church because it provided for the admission of women as delegates to the general conference made war on the constitution all along but met with defeat. One hundred and twenty-one annual conferences voted on the question, a total of 10,709 ballots being cast by the delegates.

The principal changes provided for in the new constitution are: It gives women the right to sit as delegates in the general conference; it gives lay-women the right to vote at electoral meetings; authority to vote in constitutional questions.

It changes the vote necessary in the general conference to amend the constitution from three-fourths to two-thirds.

CANON CITY

(Special Correspondence.)

Canon City, Dec. 25.—The improvements in the city water works which have been under way for some time are now about completed. The filters are all completed and the new boiler is in place and one of the wells has been cemented and is now full of water. The water from this well is not used on Saturday, but owing to the newness of it, it tastes a little of cement. This will soon wear off. All that remains to be done to complete the improvements is the laying of some new pipes and adjusting old ones to the new conditions. The expense incurred by the city will be repaid a hundred fold with the improved water supply and its results to the city.

The charity ball given by the Order of Elks last Friday evening was an unmixed success in every way. In the city alone $300 was raised for charity. The health and beauty of Canon City all turned in force and dancing was kept up into the "wee sma' hours." Some of the dresses worn by the ladies were very welcome and the decoration in the hall among the most artistic ever seen here.

The county delinquent tax sale took place on Friday and Saturday last, at which a number of properties were sold, falling to the county some $3,200.

The cold storage plant of the Crystal Ice company is about completed. This fact will be a great boon to the people of Canon City, especially the fruit men. There are two rooms 60 feet long and 16 feet deep. Along the roof of each room are pipes, run, which carry the ammonia used in the cooling process.

The power house for the new electric line joining Florence and Canon City is fast nearing completion and is a good evidence that communication will soon be established between the two towns.

The contract for building the bridge across the Arkansas river at Howard has been given to the Pueblo Bridge company.

The county commissioners have extended Thos. Robinson's electric railway franchise for six months.

Canon City merchants have secured the contract to supply the state penitentiary with 125,000 pounds of beef and 125,000 pounds of flour.

Jim McDonald of Cripple Creek, superintendent of the Gold King mine, spent Sunday here.

District Attorney Augustus Pease was initiated into the Canon City lodge of Elks last Wednesday night.

Mrs. J. W. Milsom of Colorado Springs has come down to Canon City to spend Christmas.

Dr. F. L. Bartlett of Denver is here in connection with his smelter interests.

Governor Orman spent Saturday and Sunday in Canon City.

THE JANITOR GAVE OUT TOXIC SERUM

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—Before the tetanus coroner of inquiry today Henry R. Taylor, janitor for the chemical and bacteriological divisions of the health department, admitted under oath that he issued for public use the tonic antidiphtheritic serum which caused the recent deaths of 13 children from tetanus. He distributed the phials properly labeled, he stated, because the supply of diphtheria anti-toxine had become exhausted early in October and he did not believe that the serum was "had enough to kill children."

Taylor is a negro. He has held city positions for many years. In addition to his duties as janitor he acted as assistant to Consulting City Bacteriologist Amand Ravold. More or less in the capacity of an assistant he had charge of the anti-toxine when it was in flasks and after it had been poured into phials for distribution to physicians.

For two hours Taylor was closeted this afternoon with Chief of Detectives Desmond. Taylor was placed on the witness stand with the chief of detectives at his side. Mayor Wells advised Taylor to give a distinct, true, connected relation of facts appertaining to the toxic serum. Taylor then admitted that his former testimony in which he swore that serum of September 20 had been distributed was false. Taylor stated positively that he gave out serum of the make of September 30. This serum, it is alleged, was responsible for the death of 16 or more children. Taylor said the serum of September 30 was not destroyed until after the trouble began and that he had been trying to protect the whole office.

From Fort Benton come reports of the fiercest storm known in years. The big windows of the court house were blown in and other minor damage done.

QUESTION WHETHER ENGLAND IS ASLEEP

By Associated Press.

London, Dec. 26. As a Christmas attraction the Daily News has been attempting to obtain the views of prominent men on the best way of "waking up England" in view of American and German commercial competition. The paper has consulted Sir Thomas Sutherland, Kenrick B. Murray, secretary of the London chamber of commerce, and others, only to discover the greatest divergence in the views of the persons questioned as to whether any real necessity for "waking up England" exists.

QUARREL BETWEEN CROKER AND BELMONT

By Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 26. The factional differences among the Democrats of the Seventh congressional district over the nomination of a candidate for the seat in congress made vacant by the resignation of Nicholas Muller, reached the election bureau today. The friends of Joseph F. O'Grady, represented by Asa Bird Gardiner, filed protests against the nomination of Perry Belmont and John E. Bunnell. The main objections set forth were of a technical nature and questioned the legality of the nominating conventions. An incident of the contest is a personal quarrel between Richard Croker and Perry Belmont. The latter has threatened to sue the Tammany leader for libel.

Tonight Perry Belmont filed objections with the board of election to the certificate of nomination filed by O'Grady. The objections are that Belmont is the nominee of the regular party and that O'Grady is not, in that the convention which nominated O'Grady was not legally called. Argument will be heard on the objections Saturday.

The Greater New York Democracy in convention tonight unanimously nominated Perry Belmont as its candidate for the Seventh congressional district.

A ROER VICTORY

Dewet Rushed Firman's Camp at Zeefontein.

BIG BRITISH LOSS

Two Guns Were Captured Which May Enable Dewet Successfully to Attack Block Houses.

CHRISTIAN WEYL

By Associated Press.

London, Dec. 26. The following has been received from Lord Kitchener, dated Johannesburg:

"General Rundle reports that on the night of December 24 Colonel Firman's camp at Zeefontein, consisting of three companies of yeomanry and two guns was successfully rushed by a strong commando under DeWet. It is feared the casualties were heavy. Two regiments of light horse are pursuing the Boers."

Boer resistance has always been very strong in that part of the Orange River colony which was the scene of General DeWet's Christmas coup. A great quadrangle of block houses is being built there, the points of which are Vreinigneen, Volksrust, Harrismith and Kronstadt. At the southeast corner of this quadrangle is an open space from Bethlehem to Lindley where the square of block houses is still incomplete and here DeWet made his attack.

Colonel Firman's force probably amounted to 400 men, and the disaster, especially the loss of the guns, the possession of which may enable DeWet successfully to attack the block houses, creates a disturbing impression.

First Lieutenant John Grant was unanimously chosen captain. He is out of town, and will probably take the oath of office tomorrow.

The promotion of Lieutenant Grant to the captaincy left the office of first lieutenant vacant, and Second Lieutenant E. S. Young was unanimously elected to this position. First Sergeant J. G. Gregg was chosen second lieutenant without opposition.

The new local militia company, which will be known as Company I, will be mustered into the Second regiment tomorrow night at the armory. Colonel Smith will be the mustering officer, and Adjutant General Gardner will probably be here to witness the ceremony.

RACE RIOT THREATENED IN ALABAMA TOWN

By Associated Press.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 26. In a general fight between white men and negroes at Childersburg yesterday afternoon a white man and his son were killed, while a white boy and one negro were wounded. With great difficulty a general outbreak was prevented. The negroes are now in jail at Talladega.

The dead:

J. BIRD, middle-aged white man.

REUBEN BIRD, his son, aged 15 years.

The wounded—Tom Holley, a negro, probably fatally; George Bird, white, shot in the leg.

The trouble grew out of a crap game, the negroes having quarreled over the winnings. Tom Holley shot at one of the party, when J. Bird, a white man, came up and advised the negroes to stop fighting. Holley, becoming angered at the interference, fired on Bird, mortally wounding him. Bird's two sons rushed to his side and one of them shot the negro Holley, inflicting a fatal wound. By this time the negroes were firing on both the boys and they began to seek shelter. Reuben Bird went to his father, who was dying, and was ordered by George Woods, a negro, to run.

The boy begged to remain by his father, but on failure to move, was shot dead. Charles Woods, father of George Woods, then shot the elder Bird again. George Bird was shot in the legs while escaping. A large crowd of whites quickly gathered and surrounding the negroes, captured them and took them to Talladega.

For a while it seemed as if a race riot would result, but the quick action of conservative citizens prevented an outbreak.

The same paper says also that Gomez has threatened to string up a few others when the Cuban republic is formed.

MONTANA STRUCK BY SUDDEN BLIZZARD

By Associated Press.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 26. A storm struck Helena this morning with a suddenness that was startling. An apparently calm, warm morning was transformed into a howling blizzard in almost a twinkling. The snow descended rapidly while the wind raged. The storm lasted almost an hour and since then there has been a high wind. During the storm the wind attained a velocity of 45 miles an hour. The storm came from the northwest and was general over western and central Montana.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY BETWEEN WARSHIPS

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The navy department has taken the initial steps toward the adoption of wireless telegraphy as a means of signaling between warships at sea. To this end Admiral Bradford of the bureau of equipment has asked that the armored cruisers of the Pennsylvania class have their masts and rigging so arranged that the wireless system can be introduced. This will necessitate the lengthening of the masts of the ships and the insulation of the metal rigging by the use of hemp covering for halyards. It is intended to get test sets of instruments of the various wireless systems now being operated. These include the Marconi system. Thus far, however, the navy department has not adopted definitely any system, but the construction of the new ships is regarded as a preliminary to the adoption of a system whenever its practicability is established fully. The British navy already has a number of its ships equipped with the wireless system, but this is the first move on the part of the American navy to make use of a wireless plan.

CLEVELAND WILL AID INDUSTRIAL PEACE

By Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 26.—Former President Grover Cleveland has accepted an appointment to the industrial department of the National Civic federation created at the recent peace conference of labor and capitalistic leaders. His letter of acceptance in which he approved the plan of industrial peace was today delivered to Oscar Strauss, who was chairman of the conference. It reads as follows:

"Princeton, Dec. 21, 1901.

"My Dear Mr. Strauss: Your letter of the 19 inst. is at hand. Illness has confined me to my room for almost five weeks and I am now hardly able to sit up and write this.

"My desire for the quiet and comfort of the absolute retirement from public or semi-public service is very strong and grows stronger as the days pass. I should without hesitation yield to this and decline your request that I should accept a place among those who are to seek the promotion of industrial peace by friendly intervention in trouble between employers and employed, if I were not afraid that I should thereby disregard an important duty. My reflections have made it clear to me that I should accept the place assigned to me, and I do so with an earnest wish that those selected to actively represent the purposes and motives of your conference may not labor in vain. Yours very truly,

"Grover Cleveland."

"Hon. Oscar S. Strauss, New York."

Mr. Strauss said in giving the letter to the public that every man named on the general committee had signified acceptance of the trust and work.

TRENTON CELEBRATED ITS FAMOUS BATTLE

By Associated Press.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 26. The one hundredth and twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Trenton was elaborately celebrated here today. The auspicious weather had the effect of bringing out a large crowd of strangers and local people who lined the streets along which the sham battle and the subsequent parade took place. The sham battle did not commence until after 10 o'clock, owing to the lateness of the arrival of the national guard from out of town points. The three forces of General Washington, General Sullivan and the Hessians for more than an hour occupied the streets and covered the ground that was gone over in the original battle and a realistic picture of that battle was presented except the suffering which the American forces underwent because of the cold weather and the insufficiency of clothing. The sham battle began near the battle monument and continued down Warren and Broad streets, the Hessian forces, under Colonel Gilmore, of the Second regiment, retreating and halting at short distances, firing on the advancing American army. This continued until the surrender at two points, one in front of the postoffice on East State street, and the other on South Broad street.

During the sham battle there was continuous firing of guns and cannon. After the surrender the military was re-formed for the general parade, which was supplemented by more than 1,000 members and civic organizations of the city. In the parade was the Second battery of New Jersey national guard, consisting of the Second and Third regiments, under the command of General Cooper. The parade passed through about a mile of the streets of the city and at the state house was reviewed by Governor Voorhees and a large number of state officials. The indoor celebration took place at 8 o'clock this afternoon in the opera house. Mayor Briggs introduced Governor Voorhees as the presiding officer. The principal speaker was Prof. Woodrow Wilson of Princeton, who delivered an address on the battle of Trenton.

The day's celebration closed with fireworks this evening at Monument park.

A TRIBUTE TO THE ANTI-CANTEEN SYSTEM

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, Dec. 26. Last night's riot at the presidio had a sequel tonight. The saloon of Dave Tarpey, just outside the Presidio, where last night's trouble occurred, was completely wrecked tonight. About 7 o'clock nearly 200 soldiers surrounded Tarpey's saloon and began shooting and firing rocks into the building. The windows and doors were broken and bar fixtures demolished.

A riot call was answered by a platoon of mounted artillery, who quickly suppressed the riot. Several arrests were made.

William Ross, a soldier who had been doing extra duty at Tarpey's saloon, ejected two soldiers from the place on Tuesday night because they were unruly and for this he incurred the enmity of the mob element among the soldiers.

MYSTERIOUS THEFT OF A DIAMOND CHAIN

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 26. A mysterious robbery of a diamond chain valued at $3,500, of which either the Adams Express company or Shaw & Berry, a local jewelry firm which shipped it to New York, are probably the victims, occurred some time between Sunday afternoon and this forenoon.

The jewelry was dispatched from here to Joseph Frankel & Sons, No. 68 Nassau street, New York. When delivered there was no evidence that the seal had been tampered with and the package was not opened in New York until today, when the chain was found missing. The stolen gems numbered 200 and were set in a platinum lorgnette chain 54 inches long. The package was made up by the local firm under the personal supervision of the proprietors and duly registered.

Detectives here and in New York are working on the case. It is supposed that the package was opened by some one acquainted with its contents, the chain removed and the package then restored to its original appearance.

By Associated Press.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 26. The Nippon Yusen Kaishe liner, Shinano Maru is afire at Port Townsend. Menger details of the conflagration which is raging in her hold arrived this evening by the steamer North Pacific. The Shinano left this port for Yokohoma a week ago last Wednesday with several thousand tons of cotton and general freight. She put back from sea and early this morning she arrived at Port Townsend flying signals of distress. The storm made all fear to go out to her, until the British vice consul chartered the tug Wildwood and fetched up alongside. He was told that she was afire and gave the news to the North Pacific then on her way to Seattle. The Shinano took out the most valuable oriental cargo ever sent from this port.

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Governor Has Issued Invitations for New Year Reception---Teachers Association.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver, Dec. 26.—Henry Edward Warner has resigned his position as city editor of the Evening Times and will accept a position on the Baltimore News as a special writer. Mr. Warner will leave the city for his new position Saturday. His wife will accompany him. They have many friends in Colorado Springs.

Among the corporations filed with the secretary of state today were the following: Cheyenne Building Co. of Colorado Springs, capital stock $125,000; directors, A. T. Jones, William Jonson, and Henry Blackmer; Exchange Registry & Guarantee Company of Colorado Springs, capital $100,000; directors A. M. Baker, W. P. Kinney, D. V. Donaldson and J. R. McKinnie.

The state board of pardons will hold its next meeting January 3, 1902. There are 12 applications to be considered.

Colonel W. F. Cody, otherwise known as "Buffalo Bill," together with his daughter, arrived in Denver this afternoon. He is here trying to secure help in the way of rough riders and western cowboys for his show next year.

Governor Orman today issued the invitations for the New Year reception to the military organizations of the state to be held in the capitol building. The number invited includes the city and state officials, the members of the governor's staff, the officers of the national guard, and the officers of the regular army. The governor also included in the invitation the five reporters who have had the state house run on the five leading papers of the state during the year.

Edward F. Bradford, who died in New York yesterday, recently completed the construction of a hot and cold blast furnace which he claimed would greatly reduce the cost of smelting ore. He was in New York negotiating the sale of this invention when he died. It is rumored that the sale was complete but the rumor cannot be confirmed.

The 27th annual meeting of the Colorado Teachers Association met in the East Denver High school this morning with an enrollment of 386. President P. S. Palmer called the meeting to order. A number of very interesting papers were read among them being one by Dr. E. H. Lancaster of Colorado college on "Nervous and Defective Children." He contended that most of the so-called nervous children are spoiled children. He said, "they are put on exhibition as soon as born, shouted at, whistled to, tossed and jostled until all of their internal functions were thoroughly disordered. They were petted, pampered, handled, teased, fed indigestible foods and poisonous drinks, scrubbed, spanked because they cried with the stomach ache, and rendered irritable until they have become so nervous that they lose control of themselves and fly into a passion at every little thing. They should be kept clean, given lots of sleep and let alone."

Papers were read during the afternoon and evening and tonight Dr. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education of Boston, delivered his famous lecture on "Rascals and Saints."

Edwin Potter, an aged attorney, committed suicide at his home, 719 South Tenth street last night. Grief because of the death of his only son caused him to commit the act.

William R. Quinn was found dead in a chair in the rear of a saloon at 1935 Larimer street at an early hour this morning. Alcoholism caused the death. He leaves a wife and several children at Cook, Nebraska.

Robert Haight, aged 75, dropped dead just after he had finished a game of cards at the Pioneer club today. He was the first man to search for gold in Gilpin county and for many years was prominent in the affairs of that part of the state.

Allan Adire is the name of a man who was thrown from his horse yesterday. He regained consciousness enough to tell who he was this morning. He is still in a critical condition.

The relatives of Miss McDonald, whose body was found in the small lake at the City park yesterday, are not satisfied with the coroner's conclusion that she committed suicide. They fear foul play.

The report that the machinists' strike in this city was over proved erroneous. It was thought that the entire affair was straightened but in arranging some of the minor details another split occurred and now the strike promises to be of greater magnitude than ever.

The third annual exhibition of the Colorado Fur and Feather association will be held in this city during the week beginning January 13.

L. F. Hilliard of Breckinridge, died at his home yesterday morning of paralysis after a week's illness. He came to Colorado from Philadelphia in 1880. He leaves a wife and daughter.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Coroner's Jury Declared That Brooks Was the Slayer of James Roberts.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, Dec. 26.—An inquest was held today at Lampman's morgue over the remains of James S. F. Roberts, who was killed in the Dawson club saloon on Myers avenue yesterday morning. Shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We, the jury impanelled to inquire into the death of the late James F. Roberts, find that the deceased came to his death in what is known as the Dawson club on Myers avenue, in Cripple Creek, Teller county, Colo., between the hours of 4 and 5:30 o'clock on the morning of December 25, 1901, by the blow of some blunt instrument in the hand of William Brooks. Ed. McDaniels, Foreman.
F. T. Sheafer, Clerk.
William O'Brien.
Robert J. Orr.
J. E. Miller.
W. C. Richardson."

All during the day there was a large number of spectators in attendance at the inquest and as the facts that are alleged came out in the testimony there was much indignation manifested. The proceedings started about 11:30, with Coroner Dunn presiding. District Attorney Trowbridge was present for the state. Attorney B. F. Montgomery represented "Jack" Whiting and Attorney J. Maurice Finn and H. E. Hoyt represented Crowley and Brooke. The startling fact was brought out in the inquest by two witnesses that while Roberts lay on the floor dead or dying the men and women at the bar called for the drinks and insisted that Roberts should come up to the bar and drink.

Thirteen witnesses testified. They were all people who were present at the Dawson club before, during or directly after the shooting. They comprised women of the half world, the piano player of the Dawson club, the bartender, the police and the doctors. The following were the witnesses: John Butts, Doctor Crane, Doctor Sanders, Officer Mullin, George Cady, Lily Arlington, "Doc" Howell, Mildred Doe, J. C. Hart, Fannie Smith, J. Campbell and J. Jones. Most of the witnesses were somewhat unsatisfactory in the matter of throwing any light on the actual manner of the tragedy. Several admitted that they had been drinking and had a very indistinct recollection of what happened.

Some testified that eye witnesses had told them how the man came to his death. Witness Butt swore that a woman had volunteered the information that Brooks had "put the man out." Other witnesses had heard statements of eye witnesses to the effect that the man had been pushed or fell, striking his head against the stove, causing his death.

Dr. Crane testified as to being called and regarding the autopsy made later. When he arrived on the scene three or four men were working over the body. The man had been dead several minutes. He heard several stories told about the people of the saloon. Brooks explained the affair up until the second knockdown. His story was in effect that Roberts had had a row with Whiting, that he kicked over the table and that Crowley "pushed somebody down." Dr. Crane gave it as his opinion that one wound on the head was caused by a blow and the other by the head coming in contact with something. The head was struck with terrible force and the blow could not have been struck so hard by a man's fist. Dr. Crane testified that he heard one story that Roberts had been called to come up and have his drink as he lay prostrate upon the floor. Questioned by the jury, Dr. Crane stated that John Whiting showed the left arm of his coat cut by a knife in warding off a blow which he alleged was struck by Roberts. Dr. Crane gave it as his opinion that death was caused by a blow struck on the right side of the cranium by a blunt instrument.

The last witness called, a man giving the name of Jones, gave the most definite testimony of any eye witness as to the actual manner of the killing. He described the first row between Whiting and Roberts and said that Whiting pushed the man down, but Roberts afterwards got up and made for the door, saying he was going to get a gun. Whiting remarked that he would get a gun also. Someone grabbed Roberts, who got mad, kicked over the colored man's table and directly a witness said, Brooks came from behind the bar and struck Roberts a violent blow on the head. Brooks had something in his hand, what the witness said he could not say positively, but believed it was a gun and that Brooks struck the man with the barrel. After the man was laid low a woman in the place said in effect: "Billy has fixed him this time."

The several people who were arrested after the tragedy have all been released with the exception of Brooks.

It is very probable that the county officials will take charge of the prisoner tonight and that he will be removed to the county jail. The tragedy has created quite a little feeling and respectable people are indignant. It is rumored that the law and order league will at once take steps to force a midnight closing law and close vaudeville theaters in the city.

A detailed account of the money expended by the county during the 12 months ending November 3 for the relief of the poor has been prepared by the county commissioners. The total amount expended is $9,102.59. During the past 12 months there have been seven patients sent to the Keely institute in Denver at a cost of $1,841.25 to Teller county. In 1899 there were 16 patients sent to the institute and in 1900 there were 12. The total cost to the county for the 45 patients which have been sent to the Keely institute since the county was organized is $5,241.25. During the past year there have been 365 males and 135 females who have secured charitable aid from the county.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 26.—Unable to see the flagman's signal on account of the fog, the engineer of the south bound Chicago express on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road was unable to stop his train at Hartwell today until it had struck a freight freight crossing the track and demolished three freight cars. Pueblo, Dec. 26. F. M. Stout was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of running a gambling house. He was found guilty as charged and fined $50. J. A. Johnson furnished the evidence which resulted in conviction. Stout was the proprietor of a saloon at No. 188 North Union avenue, formerly known as the White House, until yesterday when he sold his establishment to Oscar Washburn. Arguments on the motion for a new trial for Lawrence Hex, the first man sentenced to suffer the death penalty under the new capital punishment law, will be heard tomorrow. Attorney Townsend, the colored lawyer, who represents Hex in his motion for a new trial, states as one of the reasons why his client should be granted another chance that the verdict rendered was illegal and unwarranted on the evidence submitted. He alleges that the evidence was all circumstantial and that the jury had no right to bring a verdict fixing the death penalty on such a showing as was made. In addition to these reasons Mr. Townsend says that the prosecuting attorneys overstep their rights in matters of law and evidence. Altogether some 14 or 15 grounds are stated on which it is alleged that a new trial should be granted.

Mayor West is still critically ill at his home on Michigan avenue. His long illness has greatly weakened him, making it difficult to take nourishment to maintain his vigor. The people of Pueblo never realized the worth of the mayor until his incapacity for work on account of illness.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

Expert Krause Again.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

At the close of about eight months of toil, with three assistants, Expert Krause's announcement that he is now getting his auditing work into "undoubtable form" must be greatly encouraging to the gentlemen of the city council. After consuming eight months time in "checking up," the hope he holds out of his ability in another month to "total" up is suggestive of very hot action. And then, so his statement goes, barring accidents and unforseen delays and things, the council will get a report on the condition of ex-Treasurer Hale's accounts sometime during this winter, or some other winter.

It is understood that Mr. Krause's auditing of the treasurer's accounts covers a period of six years. At $1,200 per annum, the treasurer's salary for performing all the duties of his office during that six years would aggregate $7,200. The city council contracted with Mr. Krause to pay him $12.50 per day and his three assistants $4 per day each. By Mr. Krause's own statements, all of nine months will be required to complete his work. This, at the salaries fixed, indicates a cost of over $5,000. Thus the spectacle is presented of $7,200 for doing the original work and $5,000 for simply checking over the work so done. And still the end is nowhere definitely in sight. Still further, there are signs that point to extras, or by-products as it were, for the distinguished expert. For some weeks past he has occasionally caused himself to be published as the discoverer of a very loose king pin in our civic machinery. Something about our fiscal year not starting at the proper time. He seems to claim that if the city council don't make a change and begin the fiscal year as he advises, the king pin will drop out. On the other hand, should the council now make the change, the gentleman with the wide range of grey matter will no doubt promptly serve the city as he has the town of Victor, viz: with a suit in court for $6,000 or more for high-grade talent. His letter to the county commissioners, as published in today's Gazette, suggests a strong verification of such a probability.

The recent action of the county commissioners, however, in cutting loose from Mr. Krause is decidedly refreshing and will be indorsed by every citizen of the county at all familiar with the circumstances. That Mr. Krause will set up a claim against the county there can be no doubt. This is plainly reflected in his letter. He seems to be long on claims and is nothing if not a sayer. But setting up a claim and getting a judgment are two different operations and the county commissioners are amply fortified against any action the gentleman may take.

In substance, Expert Krause appears to be a barnacle which the county commissioners have very wisely shaken and which the city council would do well to shake as soon as possible.

Lincoln was hungry for an education; he yearned for growth, for expression, and, because many volumes were denied him, he appreciated all the more the precious books which he read before the log fire when all the rest of the household were asleep. There was no large library of books staring him in the face, bidding for attention and distracting his choice. All the energy of his nature was concentrated on that single "Life of Washington." CUBAN VETERANS GIVEN BANQUET TO AMERICANS

By Associated Press.

Havana, Dec. 25. A banquet was given to the officers of the United States fleet today by the Cuban veterans. It was a grand demonstration of gratitude on the part of Cubans toward the American navy. General Carlos Garcia presided. Gov. General Wood in proposing a toast to the future of the republic said that when the fleet came again it would find a stable government in Cuba.

Rear Admiral Higginson told the Cubans for their grand outpouring of hospitality and said the joy of the fleet had no special significance and certainly no political one, was a source of satisfaction to him and declared that the navy had an important factor in bringing about peace.

Captain McCalla paid a tribute to General Garcia who had served with him at Santiago, and to the Cubans for their courage and attitude during the war.

FIRST AWARD OF THE NOBELS

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 25. United States Minister Thomas has reported to the state department that events of unusual importance and interest took place December 10 at Stockholm and Christiania in connection with the award of the Nobel prizes. Alfred Nobel, the discoverer of dynamite, who five years ago, left the whole of his great fortune for the benefit of mankind in his will directed that it be divided into prizes without regard to nationality, the worthiest to be awarded the prize, whether he be Scandinavian or not. The prizes consisted of four payments, each of more than $[illegible]. The awards were as follows:

In physics to Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen, professor at the University of Munich, the discoverer of the Roentgen rays; in chemistry, to Jacobus Henricus Vanthoff, professor at the University of Berlin; in medicine, Emil von Behring, professor at Berlin, the discoverer of diphtheria serum; literature, to Sully-Prudhomme, poet of the French academy; the peace prizes were divided between Frederik Passy, national economist, and Henri Dunant of Switzerland, leading spirit in bringing about the Geneva convention and instituting societies of the Red Cross. The diplomas were awarded by the prince in person at Stockholm in the presence of a great gathering of distinguished people, and at Christiania the award was made by the Storthing, convened in solemn session. Sully-Prudhomme was unable to be present because of sickness.

By Associated Press.

Pretoria, Dec. 25.—The formation of a new burgher corps to be known as national scouts has aroused great interest among the surrendered burghers. In view of numerous meetings and applications General Lord Kitchener has authorized the creation of fresh wings to operate in the southern and eastern Transvaal under prominent Boer leaders elected by the burghers themselves.

It is stated that much of the recent success of the British is due to the co-operation of Collier's and Cronje's commands acting under Gen. Bruce Hamilton.

SERIOUS WRECK ON A TEXAS RAILROAD

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 25. The northbound Texas, Kansas & Pacific flyer due at 11 o'clock p. m. ran into a burned bridge five miles south of this city just before midnight last night. There was no loss of life, but five persons were injured, four cars were destroyed, only the Pullman being saved.

The injured—J. S. Clark, engineer, Dennison, shoulder and ankle broken; Fireman William Kearney, Dennison, cut on head and severely bruised; Joel Henry, colored, internally; Mrs. Rose Lull, colored, Waco, slight; unknown colored woman, slight.

On rounding a curve at Five Mile creek, Engineer Clark saw a burning bridge ahead. He reversed his engine, applied the brakes and jumped, as also did the fireman. The engine crossed the bridge, but the baggage car went down. This derailed the engine, which after tearing up the track for some distance, turned over into a ditch. The train behind the baggage car was left standing on the track and caught fire from the burning bridge. The passengers were able to escape from the train by jumping down a 12-foot embankment. The contents of the mail, express and baggage cars was saved. The Pullman was rolled out of danger by the crew and passengers but the remainder of the train, including a chair car, two coaches and a combination mail and baggage car was consumed.

SPALDING BELIEVES THAT HE IS LEGALLY ELECTED

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 25.—Mr. A. G. Spalding left here this evening for South Carolina, but before leaving gave out a statement relative to the communication given out by Andrew Freedman's attorney regarding Mr. Spalding's announcement that he would not act further as president-secretary-treasurer of the National Baseball league. Mr. Spalding says in part:

"Mr. Freedman's attorney is at perfect liberty to make any deduction from that letter he pleases, but it speaks for itself. The quotation that this New York attorney makes from my letter is as misleading as everything else that Mr. Freedman has done since this controversy commenced. If he had preceded his quotation that I must refuse to act further as president-secretary-treasurer of the National league, with the words 'Pending the decision of the court,' he would have shown a stronger disposition to quote my letter correctly.

"Early as December 14, I was informed by a committee of the National league that I had been unanimously elected president of that organization on that date. Col. John I. Rogers, a prominent attorney of Philadelphia, assured me that that election was regular and legal. A similar opinion has been expressed by my personal attorney, Alfred W. Kiddle, of New York. I believe I am the legally elected president of the National league and as I consider the quotations as quoted above as good as the opinion of Mr. Freedman's attorney, I shall continue to believe myself the legally elected president of the National league until some court of competent jurisdiction shall decide otherwise. Pending this final decision and in accordance with the order of the supreme court of New York, I am temporarily restrained from acting as president-secretary-treasurer of the National league and I must bow to the majesty of the law and comply with the court's order.

"I have instructed my attorney to do anything in his judgment he may deem necessary to make a proper answer at the proper time to any and all charges that may be preferred by Mr. Freedman and those who, for personal reasons, seem to deem it necessary to continue their association with him in these legal proceedings.

"I have instructed my attorney to insist that the case be brought to trial and not permit it to be dismissed until a final decision has been reached. Mr. Freedman's attorney's insinuation that the issuance of a temporary injunction upon the hearing only of Mr. Freedman's side of the case settles the case in Mr. Freedman's favor, is too ridiculous to treat seriously and was given out probably for the purpose of throwing dust in the eyes of the baseball public and to befog the real issue and also to stampede the four clubs that are responsible for my election."

The statement closes with a sharp attack on Mr. Freedman and his methods as a baseball magnate.

GROWTH OF THE TELEPHONE.

THE WORLD would be lost today without the telephone and all business would have to be reorganized. It annihilates space and time and one might regard it as a thing of magic were it not so commonplace. Figures recently compiled show the extensive use of the telephone, and it seems marvelous when one considers how short is the time since it was invented.

Up to the close of 1891 the number of instruments installed was 512,497. Since that time the annual increase has been as follows: 1892, 49,213; 1893, 15,771; 1894, 16,015; 1895, 92,470; 1896, 97,651; 1897, 116,994; 1898, 205,725; 1899, 455,225; 1900, 372,311, bringing the total installations of the American company up to 1,952,412 at the beginning of the present calendar year. The figures showing the growth of the system in 1901 are not yet available in the company's official report, but are from other sources.

Less than 25 years ago the invention of the telephone was made known to the world. About a year later the first exchange was established in the United States, which was also the first in the world. Twenty years ago there were 47,880 telephone subscribers in the country and 29,714 miles of wire for telephone purposes. At the end of last year there were 800,880 telephone exchange connections equipped with the American company's instruments, and 1,981,861 miles of wire in use for exchange and toll line service.

Of the magnitude of the telephone business at the end of the current year we have the following figures on the good authority of The Electrical Review:

	Capital Invested.	Telephones Connected.
Bell	$320,000,000	1,080,000
Independent	150,000,000	708,717
Farmers' lines, inter-communicating systems, &c. (ind.)		490,000
Totals	$470,000,000	2,278,717

The best data obtainable as to the growth of independent companies, not controlled by the American, show that they now have exchanges in 2,811 cities and towns, and serve, as shown above, 708,717 subscribers.

This independent development represents an investment of probably not far from $150,000,000. Besides independent companies operating exchanges, there are nearly half a million telephones in use by persons who do not need connection with a central station, as the service is private, as between mills and offices. The growth of the independent companies is rapid enough to menace the continuance of anything like a monopoly.

NEW KIND OF INVESTMENT.

THERE is in this country a vast sum of money awaiting investment known as "trust money." It is money held in trust for estates, colleges, insurance companies, etc. It is waiting for a long time loan usually in some safe enterprise. It is the kind of loan usually that is taken in government and city bonds, and the investor does not usually expect a heavy rate of interest. They are always looking for new fields, and the Financial Record points out a new one to them in the irrigation companies that are springing up all over the west. It says:

The attention of bond buyers is being directed to the issues of bonds of irrigation districts in the western states as opening a new field of remunerative investment within safe lines, where legitimate organization and land valuations are religiously adhered to. There is now offering $167,555 bonds of the Pioneer Irrigation district of Canyon county, Idaho, part of an issue of $207,555 which were voted by the electors of that district at a recent election, which are deemed worthy of special attention.

The irrigation district plan is fundamentally a plan for making farmers independent and permitting them to conduct farming in the broadest acceptation of the term, for it gives them control of the two essential elements. The organization of irrigation districts in Idaho isn't exactly a new thing. It is a modification of a custom that has been followed in a general way for 50 years or more, and now embodied in specific statute.

Irrigation districts have suffered in reputation in financial circles through frauds perpetrated by unscrupulous men in California, but that should not influence investors against legitimate enterprises. The securities of the Pioneer Irrigation district, for example, are considered as safe as the bonds of the state of Idaho. The actual property valuations pledged by this district will approximate $2,500,000. It is a permanent and prosperous settled community. The town of Caldwell, with an assessed valuation of nearly $500,000 and a population of 1,200, is embraced within the district. The organization of other irrigation districts throughout the state is in contemplation, and if established upon an equally solid basis, and as fully secured as in the case of the Pioneer district, their securities should find a ready market.

It has been the custom to pension the widows of presidents because without making inquiry as to their finances the people of the country cannot bear the thought that the widow of a chief magistrate should be in need. It is strange how things work about in this world sometimes. When the senate bill was called up in the house in 1891 that pensioned the wife of President Garfield it was adopted without debate. The bill was called up and put through by William McKinley.

The superintendent of New York's state prisons has promulgated an order prohibiting the cutting of prisoners' hair with clippers. The order is in line with the movement at prison reform, as it is believed it will have a tendency to self-respect.

THE NEWEST CABINET OFFICER.

GOVERNOR LESLIE M. SHAW of Iowa has accepted the treasury portfolio tendered him by President Roosevelt. This appointment comes as something of a surprise, but it will be pleasing to the west. We predict that it will prove a popular selection everywhere when the country comes to know Governor Shaw better.

Governor Shaw has been a banker in Iowa for many years. He campaigned in 1896 and made a strong impression on his party in the state by his discussion of the money question. The next year he became the party candidate for governor and came into national prominence. His arguments were listened to beyond the borders of his own state, and in 1898 he was chosen president of the monetary conference held at Indianapolis.

Governor Shaw is a clear-headed and independent thinker, and will take no backward step as secretary of the treasury. It is said that the appointment is due to the influence of Senator Dolliver, who was prominent in presenting the governor's qualifications to the president. We will have the unusual spectacle of two cabinet officers from the same state, as the secretary of agriculture comes from Iowa.

MONROE DOCTRINE EMBARRASSING.

VENEZUELA has put the United States in a very embarrassing position with the Monroe doctrine. She is indebted to Germany and will not pay in cash, but offers to grant some of her vast territory. Of course the United States will not permit that, but with the Venezuelan people ready to violate their constitution, how can we be expected to interfere and keep them from being "oppressed." Commenting on the situation the New York Press says:

When the protector and the protectorate differ so widely as to the nature of their relation, nothing but ridicule can come from any attempt to apply it in any hard and fast way. The less said about the "Doctrine" as a claimant for a place as a principle of international law the better under such circumstances. The only way to deal with the question, if it comes to dealing with it, is to hint politely that the government of the United States has no desire for nearer European neighbors, whatever their title to their holdings, along the Caribbean than the governments of Europe have for American in the Mediterranean. It is probable that this for the present will suffice. In any event, with Venezuela and the United States at such utterly cross purposes in regard to the nature of their relation, any attempt to argue the question as an international principle, as Mr. Olney did when Venezuela and the United States were agreed, will require even a higher degree of ingenuity than that possessed by the present resourceful secretary of state. In the meantime it is satisfactory to know that Germany is disposed to adopt the Roosevelt, not the Castro, method of collection.

It is a strange thing in human beings that to believe thoroughly in the presence of a spirit they must see it. If, however, the spirit responds to any other human sense they immediately lose faith. Perhaps the time will come some day when the world will realize that if there is anything so tangible about a spirit that it is visible to the human eye then it must be as fraudulent as if it responds to touch or smell or taste. In this city not many years ago a lady took her little girl with her to a seance. While the spirit was appearing as a very young person and stooping down to run about in the darkened room, the little girl whispered quite audibly to her mother, "Oh, say, the spirit smokes tobacco." She had detected the odor in the clothing. It was something of a shock to the believing mother. Down in Austin, Texas, lately they had quite a revival, and over a hundred believers were brought into the faith through the visual sense. They could see the ghost walk and that was all that was necessary. Some unbeliever, however, spilled tacks on the floor and when the spirit came forth in her stockings to glide about she suddenly emitted a howl and went dancing around with one foot in her hands. It broke up the meeting and also the faith of a hundred new converts.

A Mrs. Demuth of Alton, Ill., has started a new crusade and it looks to us like a good one. It is against lazy men. Mrs. Demuth states that she has been studying the situation and she finds that more misery is caused in her city by men who will not work than by drink. The two go hand in hand perhaps. Anyhow she wants an ordinance passed requiring such fellows to be arrested and put at work on the rock pile with wages. The money she would turn over to their families for their support. Perhaps the lady may not be able to handle the situation, but she is on the right track. Even in this bustling western country there are many families suffering simply because the father is lazy, pure and simple. In the older communities further east the thing is becoming almost intolerable. It is a hard indictment, but it is true.

A comic paper recently had a cartoon in which the little son of an actress asks his mother what courts of justice are for. Her reply is "Advertising purposes, my dear." That is the attitude, no doubt, of a Miss Verona of New York. She is suing a chemist who sold her drugs warranted to turn her hair a beautiful auburn, but instead of taking on the right color the tresses became green. The vaudevilles did not then want her "turn," and she is only popular with the dime museum managers. The poor thing shrinks from notoriety in the case and will be satisfied with two thousand dollars damages, which will support her while nature restores the original color of carrots.

A joint resolution has been presented in the senate by Senator Stewart to extend the judicial power of the United States to all controversies in law and equity relating to use of water, except where the water and use thereof are in the same state. Something like this will certainly have to come if the nation takes up the matter of irrigation. At present there is no tribunal for the settlement of disputes between states dependent on the same water supply. We have a case at the present time between Colorado and Kansas over the use of the waters of the Arkansas.

An indication of the general business activity of the country is in the order for locomotives. One eastern firm has orders for nearly seven hundred engines for the year, or two a day. The percentage of orders from the southwestern country shows that Texas, Oklahoma and the region generally is advancing rapidly.

There are monopolies and monopolies, but that claimed by the Anglo-American Telegraph company that has ordered Marconi to stop sending messages across the Atlantic is the funniest. They not only claim a title to the system of messages by wire under the water, but they think they own the air.

A Good Gift

Among the best gifts to children is the bestowal upon them of frugal habits. Saving money for good uses is recognized as a positive virtue, which cannot be too earnestly cultivated. If you would do your boys and girls a real service, open for them savings accounts with The Assurance Savings and Loan Association. For the younger children the Nickel Stamp savings system, in use by the Association, is very popular.

Husband:--Warning!

A wife's happiness depends very materially upon her surroundings. If you pay all your earnings for rent and moving expenses, and keep continually and eternally pulling and dragging her from one end of town to the other, can you expect her to be happy? A spot that she can call "our home," no matter how cheap, or how small, will bring forth a sigh of relief and contentment that will be very gratifying. Don't you think it's your duty to "own" a home? We have them at all prices.

HAS A COPY OF THE BILL

Postmaster Dana Arranging to Push Movement for Federal Building Here.

Postmaster L. C. Dana is preparing a circular letter to be sent to members of the public buildings committee of congress, urging upon the members of the committee the necessity of a federal building in Colorado Springs. The bill introduced two weeks ago by Congressman John C. Bell, providing for an appropriation of $150,000 for a government building here is in the hands of the committee on public buildings.

Mr. Dana yesterday received a copy of the bill introduced by Congressman Bell. It was introduced on December 16. It provides an appropriation $150,000 for the purchase of a site and the construction of a government building in Colorado Springs. According to the terms of the bill, if it become a law, proposals for the sale of land for a site must be invited by advertisement. The proposed sites must be inspected by an agent from the treasury department at Washington, and if he deems it necessary, a commission of three shall be appointed by the secretary of the treasury to hold hearings before the site is finally determined upon. One of this commission must be an agent from the treasury department.

The secretary of the treasury will make the final decision as to the site for the building, and will also decide upon the letting of the contract.

The bill provides that the proposed building shall have at least 15 feet of open space on all sides.

The indications are that the bill will pass if the people of Colorado Springs show the proper interest. A similar bill is also before the senate. The senate of the last congress passed a bill providing for a public building in Colorado Springs, but the house let the bill die.

If a federal building is established here it will have accommodations for the postoffice, United States commissioner and probably a deputy United States marshal. It is also likely that an internal revenue office would be established in Colorado Springs.

Christmas Business Broke All Records

According to an estimate made by Postmaster L. C. Dana, about 9,000 Christmas parcels have been received at the Colorado Springs postoffice and delivered during the past week. This is an increase of 20 per cent over the number handled last year. It is impossible to estimate the number of packages sent through the office from Colorado Springs, but this number has also been much larger than that of last year.

The rush of business at the postoffice had not yet ended last night. There were still nearly 5,000 packages to be delivered, but most of these could be got out today. Of the 50,000 packages received during the week nearly 25,000 were registered. The carriers and clerks all worked overtime every day during the week. Many of the carriers used carts to make their deliveries.

"While the Christmas business was much larger than ever before," said Mr. Dana yesterday, "the regular office force, with the addition of two extra carriers and two extra clerks, was able to do all the work required. Too much credit cannot be given to these employes, each one of whom had to work from four to six hours overtime each day."

Court House Furniture Will Cost About $21,000

The metal furniture for the county court house will cost $21,000. County Commissioner Doran returned yesterday from St. Louis, where he inspected what furniture has already been made under the original contract for $15,500, and let an additional contract for $5,500.

The furniture is being made at the St. Louis factory of the Art Metal Construction company of Jamestown, N. Y. The furnishings contracted for include desks, tables, chairs and cases for books and records. All will be finished a bronze color, and will not only be very durable, but will be attractive looking. The furniture will be finer than that of any other building west of Kansas City.

El Paso Bak Block Threatened by Fire

What might have been a serious fire was averted yesterday afternoon. The fire started about 4:30 o'clock. Some of the tenants on the third floor of the El Paso Bank block. A moment after the blaze was discovered the sofa was carried out into the hallway by several tenants. The fire in an attorney's office caught fire from a match which some one had lighted. There was unrolled, the water for a few minutes there was great burned on, and in a few minutes the fire excitement in the building, but the fire was out. The fire department was not was put out before any damage called, although the upper part of the building was filled with smoke.

AMUSEMENTS

HAVERLY'S MINSTRELS TONIGHT.

Haverly's minstrels will be the attraction at the Opera house this evening. The Haverly minstrel show has been a standard American attraction since the palmy days when the redoubtable "Jack" Haverly controlled a score of theaters on both sides of the Atlantic and had as his assistants such men as the Frohmans and others now equally conspicuous in the theatrical world. Haverly's venturesome ambition lost him the greater part of his immense fortune, but to his minstrel company he clung with undaunted courage and through the years it has survived the fiercest rivalry and keenest competition. Mr. Nankeville, who now directs the Haverly enterprise, encouraged by his success last season, has this year striven to maintain the Haverly name and fame with an organization as complete as money and brains can make it. He again presents as his chief comedian, Mr. George Wilson, a name familiar wherever minstrelsy is known and has furnished him as assistants in fun-making comedians but little less known, such as Dan Allman, Eddie Mazier, Toney Conley, Herman Marion, Billy Pearl, Willis Rankin and Eddie McGlue.

The olio which will be made up exclusively of legitimate minstrel acts, good, old-fashioned black-faced minstrel tradition being rigidly adhered to, includes the irresistible monologue and parodies of George Wilson, the musical act of Garden and Somers, which was one of the hits of the last season Haverly tour; Mazier and Conley, in a funny talking specialty; Marion and Pearl, in acrobatic song and dance, and closing with a European importation, the Young family, in a humorous black pantomime, entitled "The House of Trouble."

A LION'S HEART.

There is much that is new in the English melodrama that will be presented at the Opera house Saturday. The play is in a prologue and four acts, the principal part of the action taking place in France. Pierre Rizardo, the hero, is a lion tamer in a circus. He learns that his wife has eloped with Gaspard Dobre and vows vengeance. Dobre finally deserts the woman, who dies, leaving her child to the tender mercies of the world. This much of the story is told in the dressing tent of the circus. The first act is located in the dales of Devonshire. Rizardo's child has grown to womanhood and is married to a gentleman farmer named Dick Lorimore. A French officer arrives accompanied by Dobre, who now passes as his valet. A burglary and murder is committed and Marion Lorimore is accused and sentenced to the penal settlement at New Caledonia, where again the other characters are brought into the story. The French government in order to colonize this settlement have been accustomed to select convicts of good behavior, grant them tickets-of-leave and allow them to select wives from the female convicts. Through the machinations of De Villefort, who has been made been governor of the island about this time, Rizardo is persuaded to choose his own daughter for his wife, he however, being unaware of her identity; just as everything seems hopelessly mixed up, Dobre arrives and confesses; De Villefort is punished and all who deserve happiness receive it. The comedy is furnished by a newly married couple on their honeymoon, who get into all sorts of ludicrous situations in trying to avoid the everlasting "honeymoon smile." Mr. Carl A. Haswin, an actor of recognized ability, plays the leading part and has surrounded himself with an exceptionally strong supporting company.

YON YONSON.

At the Opera house Monday evening Thall & Kennedy's scenic production of "Yon Yonson" will hold the stage. Of all the dialect plays produced since the days of Emmet none has achieved such substantial and enduring success as "Yon Yonson," a Swedish dialect comedy, which portrays a phase of contemporaneous life. This season the main role is being played by Knute Erickson. The central figure is a raw Swedish emigrant, and the plot hinges upon his career in the lumber camps of the northwest. Mr. Erickson is said to be a pleasing comedian and his dialect is mellow and amusing. His rapid rise from the uncouth woodsman to a man of affluence and eminent respectability and the discovery of his long-lost sister in an accomplished young society girl are the principal dramatic events of the play. The scenery is said to command special attention. The reproduction of a lumber camp and the exciting log jam scene are faithful pictures. The company is said to be a capable one and embraces Annie Mack Berlein, Beatrice Norman, E. J. Mack, Georgie Bryton, Belle Gold, E. Guy Spangler, Harry Maynard, Sydney Craven and Charles Hubbard. A special feature of the performance is the appearance of the lumbermen's quartet.

NEW YEAR ATTRACTION.

The elaborate production of "Rupert of Hentzau," which is to be seen at the Opera house on next Wednesday, is said to equal in scenic magnificence and elaboration of detail anything which has been produced under the auspices of Mr. Daniel Frohman. The entire complement of scenery and accessories are exact duplicates of that used in the original Lyceum theater presentation, and includes two of the best examples of Unitt's skill as a scene-painter the scene in the cellar of 19 Konigstrasse, Strelsau, where the famous duel takes place, and the throne room of the royal palace at Strelsau. The company is an especially strong one.

INTER-CLUB GOLF TO BE PLAYED TOMORROW

A team match at golf between the Town and Gown Golf club and the Country club will take place on the course of the latter on Saturday the 28th inst., commencing at 1 o'clock. A 50-cent luncheon will be served at the Country Club house between 12 and 1 o'clock for the members of the teams, and play will begin promptly thereafter. The Golf club's team will be selected from the following players:

W. K. Jewett, H. E. Davis, J. E. McIntyre, B. C. Allen, H. Davis, Jr., W. R. Starkweather, L. A. Chase, F. M. Taylor, H. E. Armstrong, D. F. Carpenter, W. Scott, J. H. Sanger, H. R. Wray, C. W. Davis, S. F. Hamp, J. S. Tucker, H. Hine, J. M. Allen, W. Fregaye, S. J. Mattocks and E. P. Shove.

Any player on this list who cannot play will please notify Mr. W. K. Jewett at once.

An Evangelist's Story.

"I suffered for years with a bronchial trouble and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using One Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, evangelist of Belle River, Ill. One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled. Absolutely safe. Never fails and a favorite with the children. Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co., C. E. Smith, 117 South Tejon street.

GIFT FROM DURANGO FOR THE BOYS CLUB

Mrs. Frank Chesebro of Durango, has sent to the Boys' club of Colorado Springs, a very attractive and appropriate painting which is to be placed in the club as a permanent attraction. It is a painting 2½x3½ feet in size, the subject being a newsboy.

For a few days the picture will be on exhibition at Giddings' store, after which it will be taken to the club.

All the friends of the club are asked to remember the entertainment tomorrow night at the Methodist church, South.

NEW INCORPORATIONS WERE FILED WITH CLERK

Two more new corporations have been chartered by the state authorities to do business in Colorado Springs. Copies of the articles of incorporation, filed recently at the office of the secretary of state, were recorded yesterday by the county clerk.

According to the certificate filed by the Exchange Registry & Guaranty company, this corporation has been organized to transact a loan and stock transfer and registry business. The capital stock is $100,000, divided into shares of the par value of $100 each. The directors are James R. McKinnie, Arthur M. Baker, David V. Donaldson, William P. Kinney and Frederick R. Ballard.

The other company to file papers was the Cheyenne Building corporation. This concern will transact a general real estate and investment business in Colorado Springs. The directors for the first year are Asa T. Jones, W. H. Jonson and H. M. Blackmer.

The capital stock is $125,000, divided into shares of the par value of $100 each.

JNO. S. ALLAM SUES FOR COMMISSIONS DUE

John S. Allam began suit in the county court yesterday against Mercy G. Hobbs for $500, said to be due him as a commission for a real estate transaction he made for the defendant.

The transaction was the sale of what is known as the Hobbs tract, in the southern part of West Colorado Springs. Mr. Allam says he was employed by O. R. Dunnington, agent for the defendant, to sell the property for $6,500, and was to receive a commission of $500. He sold the tract to the Telluride Reduction company on October 16 for that amount. He alleged that the defendant has refused to pay him the commission, and sues for $500 with interest from October 16.

Max J. Rudolph, receiver for the Nicholson Electric Hoist company, filed a foreign transcript of a judgment rendered against W. S. Reynolds for $700. This judgment was entered in a Cleveland court in 1897, and it is said that the amount has never been paid. Mr. Rudolph sues for the amount of judgment with interest.

Margaret S. Lee began an attachment suit against Isabella Sanders.

ARE TELLING WHY THEY DID NOT VOTE

County Commissioner Fairall spent yesterday at Ellithorpe's store, in Colorado City, listening to the excuses of people of that city who had their names on the registration lists prior to the last election and failed to vote. These qualified voters had been notified by County Clerk Reed that unless they furnish good excuses for their neglect to the county commissioners, their names will be stricken from the registration lists.

There were 320 Colorado City voters who failed to vote last month. All those who do not see one of the commissioners at Ellithorpe's store tomorrow or Monday will have their names taken from the lists.

The Colorado Springs voters have not yet been notified of the time for giving excuses. Notices will be sent out soon by the county clerk.

"The Foreshadowing of the Cross."

So many who have seen the remarkable old painting of the Madonna, owned by Mr. Stevens, have asked him if copies of it could be had, that he has finally consented to issue a few.

From the splendid reproduction of the painting in a recent Sunday's Gazette, it was known that an excellent negative must have been made, notwithstanding the great difficulty of rendering the color-values of a painting so rich in color and so mellowed by time. Such is the case and the platinum prints from the negative are very rich and mellow and almost suggest the color. A few of these prints are exhibited today for the first time at Mr. Stevens' studio, 26 East Bijou street, and as he has made but about thirty altogether there are now only a few left because of a number having been sent to the various art galleries and museums of Europe and America.

As it will be impossible to make any more before Christmas those who want them must come early this morning to secure one of the few that are left.

WATER WILL BE SHUT OFF JAN. 1

Water Commissioner Davis reports that despite the fact that the receipts so far have been heavier than at this time other years, there will be a large number of water users on the delinquent list.

The water rents for the last half year become delinquent on January 1 and it is provided in the ordinances of the city that where rents are not paid the water will be shut off. Another feature of this is that where two or three are on one tap and any one of them fails to pay up they all suffer as by turning off the water from one house turns it off from all on that tap.

The commissioner has things in good shape now and the matter of collecting the rents or turning off the water will be prosecuted without the delays which have been occasioned in the past through matters being mixed up in the office. It is a case of pay up or go dry. Water rents should be paid at the old city hall, No. 20 South Nevada avenue, and not at the new city hall on Kiowa street.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

It is a well established fact that pneumonia can be prevented. This disease always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza. Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for these diseases, you will not find a single case that has ever resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dread disease. The fact is it counteracts any tendency of a cold or attack of the grip towards pneumonia. It is famous for its quick cures of colds and grip. Try it. All druggists sell it.

THE POINTER-MINT CONSOLIDATION

Mr. Weston, in an Interview, Advises the Pointer Stockholders to Consider Well Before Declining to Go In.

In an interview with Mr. W. Weston, the engineer who made the report on the various properties which it was intended to consolidate, he made the following remarks: "The Pointer shareholders should consider well before they decline to join the consolidation, providing, of course, it be on a fair basis. They must remember that the ore shoots in the district almost invariably pitch to the north, and that if the values in the Pointer continue beyond the cross vein into the Mint, which they seem likely to do, it is quite possible that the shoot is already pitching that way, and, if so, as the Pointer territory along the course of the vein is comparatively short, it will not take long for the values to leave their ground. These are points which should be carefully considered."

BLACK HILLS BELT DEVELOPMENT

Lead, S. D., Dec. 24.—The Black Hills Belt Development company yesterday began crosscutting the formation to the east on the 700-foot level of their shaft. It was believed for a time that the company would continue sinking the shaft to the 1,000-foot level before commencing to crosscut, but it is now rumored that the diamond drill which has been sunk to 1,000 feet east of the shaft to a depth of 750 feet, revealed something good in the way of ore which settled the idea of crosscutting. It would have satisfied C. B. Amsden, consulting engineer of the company of Colorado Springs, much better to have sunk 500 feet deeper before crosscutting.

The Castle Rock Mining company is spending a large amount of money in the development of a large gold bearing property in the Bear Gulch district. The tunnel has been run in 120 feet on quartzite and ore running in values from $3.20 to $40 has been found. The persons backing this company reside, for the most part, in Spearfish. The company proposes to erect a cyanide plant.

There is reason to believe that the 250-ton cyanide plant which will be built somewhere in the Hills by an Boston syndicate will finally be located in Rapid City. Frederick H. Smith, representing a dozen or more wealthy people in the Hub city, has returned to his home and in recent letter to parties in this city states that he has presented three or more propositions for the mill location to his principals, and that the sentiment seems to be toward the Rapid City proposition. The business men of Rapid agreed to donate a mill site on Rapid creek, an artificial lake four miles from town, land to the amount of 120 acres and a cash bonus besides. The artificial lake would furnish water power which would offset in its saving against steam power the extra expense in the way of freight in hauling the ore to the mill from the northern hills. The next place for the mill, in choice, would be Deadwood, but the business men there have made no offer and a cash outlay of $15,000 would be necessary to get a mill site.

RAISING VALUES.

What Are the Possibilities of Bars of Iron Placed in the Hands of Different Artisans?

The January Success contains an interesting article showing what may be produced from a number of bars of iron, one each being placed in the hands of various mechanics. The writer says, in part:—

The man who takes the first bar may be a rough blacksmith, who has only partly learned his trade, and has no ambition to rise above his anvil. He thinks that the best possible thing he can do with his bar is to make it into horseshoes, and congratulates himself upon his success. He reasons that the rough lump of iron is worth only two or three cents a pound, and that it is not worth while to spend much time or labor on it. His enormous muscles and small skill have raised the value of the iron from one dollar, perhaps, to ten dollars.

Along comes a cutlery with a little better education, a little more ambition, a little finer perception, and says to the blacksmith: "Is this all you can see in that iron? Give me a bar, and I will show you what brains and skill and hard work can make of it."

When his work is done, he shows the astonished blacksmith two thousand dollars worth of knife blades where the latter only saw ten dollars' worth of crude horseshoes. The value has been greatly raised by the refining process.

Still another workman, whose processes are so infinitely delicate, whose product is so little known, by even the average educated man, that his trade is unmentioned by the makers of dictionaries and encyclopedias, takes but a fragment of one of the bars of steel, and develops its higher possibilities with such marvelous accuracy, such ethereal fineness of touch, that even mainsprings and hairsprings are looked back upon as coarse, crude and cheap. When his work is done, he shows you a few of the minutely barbed instruments used by dentists to draw out the finest branches of the dental nerves. While a pound of gold, roughly speaking, is worth about two hundred and fifty dollars, a pound of these slender, barbed filaments of steel, if a pound could be collected, might be worth hundreds of times as much.

Just as each artisan sees in the crude iron some finished, refined product, so must we see in our lives glorious possibilities, if we would but realize them. If we see only horseshoes or knife blades, all our efforts and struggles will never produce hairsprings. We must realize our own adaptability to great ends; we must resolve to struggle, to endure trials and tests, to pay the necessary price, confident that the result will pay us for our suffering, our trials, and our efforts.—(O. S. Marden, in January Success.

Carnegie's Thirty Million Dollar University.

The new Carnegie Polytechnic school, whose buildings will soon be erected in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, will be more richly endowed than any other educational institution in the world; it will contain room for the instruction of over one hundred thousand students, on the broadest and most practical lines, of industrial science and art, and commercial law and practice, and its professors will be men of the highest rank in their respective fields of learning. It is to be complete in its curriculum of practical instruction, and will be world-wide in its scope of educational usefulness. It will be the largest training school for artisans ever known, and will make Pittsburg noted as the center of advanced practical education. This is the comprehensive idea of Andrew Carnegie, its founder. He announces that he will donate thirty-three million dollars to place the school on a working basis. Some idea of the magnitude of the operations which the school will be enabled to undertake, through its large endowment, may be gleaned from the fact that Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, recognized as one of the leading institutions of its kind, if not the leading one, possesses an endowment fund of only two million dollars, while the buildings and equipment cost only about eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars additional. While six million dollars may now be used for site, buildings and equipment of the Carnegie school in Pittsburg, it is not certain that this amount will be the limit. Mr. Carnegie, during a recent visit to Pittsburg, examined the plans prepared, and approved them as far as they went. Then he announced that he was ready to go ahead with the erection of the buildings at any cost, requesting that no expense be spared to make the institution what he intended it should be—namely, the greatest and finest seat of learning of its kind in the world.

The new Carnegie Polytechnic institute has one definite aim. It is to be a college where young workmen may be trained to carry on the battles of peace, using machinery, trade, and commerce, in the struggle of nations for supremacy in wealth. It will build up all of the growing industries of the United States by fitting out skilled laborers, good foremen, great master mechanics, artist artisans, and engineers. The entire country, with such a school in operation, will never lack for thoroughmen who understand the principles whereby cheapness and excellence of output are attained, new markets conquered, and the general trade interests of the country upheld. This new school will supply a comprehensive plan of education, inasmuch as it will train people for modern industries.—(Beauford A. Mason, in January Success.

Saved His Life.

"I feel I owe my life to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," writes H. C. Christensen, Hayfield, Minn. "For three years I had dyspepsia so bad that I could hold nothing on my stomach. Finally I was confined to my bed. Doctors said I could not live. I read your advertisement on Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and thought it fit my case and commenced its use. I began to improve from the first bottle. Now I am cured and recommend it to all." Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co., C. E. Smith, 117 South Tejon street.

Commercial Value of the Automobile.

Automobiling is a royal sport, as anyone knows who has ridden in the chauffeur's seat of a forty-horse-power machine on a well-kept country road. But I do not plead for the automobile as a pleasure machine. I am not a faddist. The automobile is a commercial necessity. Its place is with the electric street car, the locomotive, and the traction engine.

While automobiling is now a fad among well-to-do Americans, (although I believe it will find a permanent place in recreation and sport,) the future of the automobile does not depend upon its use by pleasure seekers. Its great commercial value is not yet appreciated, even by those who are most interested in the development of the machine. It is a great time-saver. In America, "time is money" more than anywhere else in the world. The great newspapers, in their race to get the latest news first to distant parts of their cities, now employ automobiles to carry the papers from the pressrooms to the news-stands. They travel faster than the electric cars. The hospitals, to save human lives, send automobile ambulances to transport the injured more safely and quickly to the surgeons. The large shops are greatly improving their delivery service by using automobiles instead of vehicles drawn by horses. The problem of transporting light freight about a large city like New York is being solved by the automobile. Street railways have tried it, but they could not do it successfully because of the interference with passenger traffic, and the impossibility of delivering goods away from the few streets where tracks are laid. An automobile delivery wagon does not have its route marked out by rails.

I look to see all the ordinary work of transportation in the great cities of the world—such as New York, London, Paris, and Chicago,—done without horses, and I think the change will be made much sooner than most people have any idea of. Everything will be done with greater dispatch; the streets will be less congested, and, most important of all, clean. Think what a crowded thoroughfare like Broadway, New York City, would be with no horses in sight, only motor vehicles speeding about hither and yon. (Henri Fourlier, in Success for January.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every 10 minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine my boy would not be on earth today.—(Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Dec. 26.—The mining stock market opened today after a intermission of three calls with trading very light, and prices lower in sympathy, although there were only two exceptions. The general tone of the market was indifferent, more than it was weak; very little stock being offered for sale, and the fluctuations were largely confined to those which have been more less active for the past few weeks. Elkton went off from $1.36 to $1.34 and Pike's Peak to 61½, while Portland was lower at $2.82½. Vindicator was practically stationary at $1.24, the price which someone seems to be willing to pay for a considerable amount of quite long stock. Among the advances were Consolidated, which made a good gain to 9½, due to the excellent showing of the company's lessees in Cripple Creek, and Findley was also much stronger and in excellent demand at 12, due to the favorable outlook for the legal troubles in which the company is involved. Gold Dollar was lower at 9½. Isabella sold up to 35½, under that freshened demand which has resulted from the effort to control the meeting to be held next month. The prospects were duly advanced, Cripple Creek advanced further to 3½, and Nellie N. was stronger, selling at 4½, but Subject Eclipse fell off fractionally to 10½ and Agnes was sold to the amount of 10,000 shares at 4. C. K. & N. was in good demand at 2½, owing to the fact that the stock in the drift run out from the Columbia is looking very well.

EASTERN MARKETS

By Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 26.—The bears in the market beat a precipitate retreat in the last hours of the day's session on the stock exchange and there was a rather sharp rally developed, in which buying by the bears in order to cover short sales played a prominent part before the close. There were some sharp advances in the more volatile stocks, but the closing generally was strong and active and near the top level. The volume of dealings showed a material increase over that prevailing for the last few days.

The bears were inclined to continue their campaign when the market opened this morning and they effected a number of serious inroads upon prices. But they soon became aware that their offerings were being absorbed in a volume and confidence which sounded a warning. Sugar continued to be the leader of the market, but by no means to so overwhelming a proportion as of late. The vigorous support accorded this stock and the success achieved in driving the bears to cover in it were important factors in turning the general market upward and in swelling the demand for other stocks to an extent which lessened Sugar's proportion of dealings in the market. The bears in the stock showed growing evidence of acute distress and of having over-extended their accounts apparently in the confidence that the recent experience in copper was to be repeated in Sugar. Rumors got abroad that negotiations were in progress for patching up a truce in the trade war. There was a growing suspicion that while both crude and refined sugar are selling at very low prices, the margin between crude and refined is still sufficient to afford a profit upon the industry of refining. Whatever may be the grounds of today's rumors the shorts were thrown into a fright, and rushed the price up from the low point at 103⅞ to 113⅝. The stock closed at 112½, a net gain of 6¾.

Amalgamated Copper, sharing in the heartiness of the party market, also developed a very strong tone, adding to the sentimental effect of the rebound in Sugar. The price rose to 69⅞ and closed only a shade lower at a net gain of 2⅞. The activity in the stocks of electric manufacturing companies may have been connected with the developments in the copper trade. Westinghouse Electric was at one time up 17 points and closed with a net gain of 14. The majority of railroads reporting today gross earnings for the third week in December showed decreases compared with last year, and this was an influence in the early decline, especially in St. Paul. That stock, Louisville and a number of southern stocks and smaller railroads reported decrease of earnings. The showing was ignored apparently because of the very high level of earnings in the third week of December of last year which were some 11 per cent over those of the preceding year and were notably heavy in the southwestern region. The southwesterns, Pacifics and grangers became very strong late in the day. The hard and soft coal carriers were active and strong all day, gains in some of the leaders reaching between 2 and 3 points and in Hocking Valley four points.

Money seemed to be in abundant supply and confidence that it would continue so added to the strength of the market. There was reported from Washington a purchase of $2,500,000 of government bonds from a New York firm for delivery before January 1. It is expected that there will be a quick and large return of cash from the channels of enormous holiday trade.

The bond market was moderately active and firm. Total sales, par value, $2,440,000. United States 3s advanced ¼ per cent at the last call.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—May wheat closed 1⅛@⅛c higher; May corn closed a shade lower; May oats, ⅛@⅛c up and provisions for May delivery from 12½@15c higher for ribs to 22½c higher for pork. The wheat market's activity began at the tap of the gong, despite the absence of cables. May selling ⅛@⅛c to 2⅝@⅞c higher at $2⅞@$2⅞c. Sentiment, already inclined to bullishness, was stimulated in that direction by the report of damage to winter wheat in the southwest. Lack of snow protection, it was stated in various messages, had worked harm to the tender shoots. A large general demand sent May to 83c with little opposition. Over that figure commission houses sold heavily, but the market absorbed offerings with an ease which rendered further advance to $83⅝@83¾ necessary to check the ardor of buyers. Sales from brokerage houses, accompanied by the profit-taking operations of floor traders, sent May back to 82⅝@82½c during the afternoon. At this point buying was renewed for both the local and outside account, and the market closed strong, May ½@⅝c over Monday at 82⅞c.

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Colorado Springs Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Colorado Springs people endorse this claim.

Mr. James Niles of 15 East Cimarron street, carpenter, says: "During the fall of 1898 and the winter of 1899 an attack of backache persistently clung to me. If I had taken it in time I might have checked it in its earliest stages, but I neglected it, and when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Jones & Wellington's drug store, 109 N. Tejon street, there was not the slightest doubt but some derangement of the kidneys caused the annoyance. As the treatment cured me, I am only too glad to indorse the remedy."

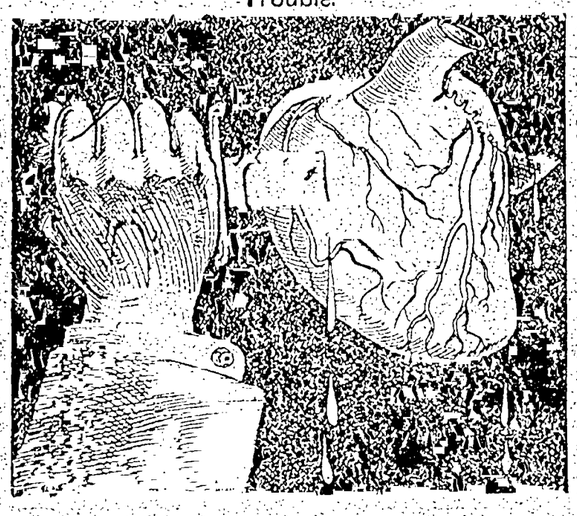
Heart Disease

Some Facts Regarding the Rapid Increase of Heart Trouble.



Heart trouble, at least among the Americans, is certainly increasing, and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs or poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable, but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way also the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half-digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores, and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Mrs. Lydia Bartram of Assyria, Mich., writes: "I have suffered from stomach trouble for ten years and five different doctors gave me only temporary relief. A Mr. E. R. Page advised me to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and four boxes did me more permanent benefit than all the doctors' medicines that I have ever taken."

Mrs. G. H. Crossley, 538 Washington street, Hoboken, N. J., writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children. As well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say tablets and she drops everything else and runs for them."

Miss Lelia Dicely, 427 Plummer street, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 75-cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

Phil Brooks, DeTroit, Mich., says: "Your dyspepsia cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from dyspepsia but am now entirely cured and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

Full sized packages of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Stage Dignified by Stately Tragedy

The local stage was dignified yesterday by stately tragedy, tragedy resulting from the clashing of human emotions and temperaments which are as old as life: jealousy, ambition, love, hatred and deep suffering, portrayed by artists who lived the emotions they assumed and made the play convincing. Shoddy imitations and incongruities were forgotten, for there was created a world as real as dramatic genius can command—a world which held two vast audiences silent, wrapt and tearful, often, although when each of the plays was finished—"Mary Stuart" and "Henry VIII,"—there was left the feeling of the greatness of humanity, triumphing even in death over the wrongs which are done them and over those who do the wrongs.

To engender this feeling, to leave an inspiration as well as a sadness in the hearts of the audience, needs genius, and Modjeska still has it. Suffering in both the plays under the stress of a great injustice, she rises to the heights of queenly martyrdom with a dignity of grief, which she has at no time in her career surpassed. If she has lost aught of power in the intenser scenes, she has gained in artistic force, in humanness and in that restraint which counts for so much more than unchecked emotion. Her English, too, improves with each year, until now there is left only enough of the foreign accent to persuade us it is Modjeska, if, indeed, the mastery in acting at the ending of the two plays were not enough to remove all doubt as to the identity of this great actress.

The bill in the afternoon was "Mary Stuart" than which there are few heavier tragedies presented today on the stage. From the outset there is the injustice and the suffering. There are no preliminaries, no light relief, but the play moves on through scenes of passion and grief to its heavy close. Yet grief is no less a human emotion than joy, no further from the heart; and the deep sympathy which such a character as Mary Stuart should excite is ready and responsive as soon as Modjeska appears, follows her to the very close, exulting in her nobility and independence and sorrowing with her bowed down by her fate. The crafty Leicester, loving none but himself, betraying his friends, living a double life and with his fine pretense of love for the unfortunate queen, was adequately taken by Mr. James, who showed an intelligent conception of the part; while Mrs. Evans-Wilde as Queen Elizabeth did excellent work throughout, not so carefully tempered as Modjeska's, but animated and very convincing. Norman Hackett's Mortimer also deserves much commendation for the spirit and finish which he put into his work.

As an acting play "Henry VIII" is not as perfect as "Mary Stuart." In the original it is so long that much must be cut out, and the rapid changing of scenes breaks into the best dramatic arrangement; but it is a splendid play, for all that, and as Wagnall & Kempner presented it, it was pageant as well as drama, so richly was it mounted. Mr. James' work as Cardinal Wolsey was so finished that it defies criticism. In stature, voice and manner, he is finely fitted for the part. His great speech beginning "A long farewell to all my greatness," was rendered with such real feeling, such vibrant sadness and manly seriousness of tone that the artist was eclipsed by the cardinal who lived again. What praise is not due to an actor who is so complete a master of his art that one year he can come here and play "Bottom" in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and the next assume that of England's greatest cardinal?

As in "Mary Stuart," Modjeska enlisted the complete sympathy of the audience from her first entrance. Her womanliness, her majesty, her superb pleading and proud arrogance, as she refused to stand trial before Wolsey; her unfaltering love for Henry, and her overpowering grief were emotions which commanded all hearts to beat in kinship with hers, and which brought tears to the eyes even as they were shed from hers. It was quiet acting, no uncontrolled passion, no hysterics; but what could have sunk deeper into the feelings of the audience? When Modjeska assumes such a part as this, one feels as if she felt every phase of the role, completely surrendering her own personality and living the woman and the queen.

The supporting company was very even. There were no sticks, and very little mouthing of the stately lines of either play. Shakespeare's lines, especially, were read in an understanding way, with very careful heed for shades of meaning and the subtleties of the text which often require much study if one does not hear an artist render them. Norman Hackett as Henry, was especially pleasing in this respect, standing next to the two stars in his intelligent reading of the poet; and Mr. Cooke as Buckingham was polished to a degree, and very satisfying. As for Mr. Hackett's impersonation of Henry, it was complete in its blustering temper and despotic vanity. He assumed the role with a spirit which was a little too free, perhaps, but which was one of the most pleasing features of his acting, as it promises much for the future of one who is so earnest and so endowed.

Altogether, the two plays were a treat to local theater-goers. They are by no means ideal tragedies, and one would not want to have a succession of them. But they strike a chord in the scale of every human heart which should not be left unsounded even in the play-house. By the striking of this chord of sympathy with suffering and the nobility with which injustice can be borne, one is made to feel deeply, sensations which are among the most potent of those which enrich and ennoble life.

The Line Points

About Elite work can be seen at a glance. A delicate satin finish that adds as much refinement to a man's dress as fine clothes. The collars are not mashed as thin as paper. Each collar has a good thickness that shows the life was not crushed out of it when it was ironed. Every shirt is ironed to fit and lays perfectly flat on the chest, instead of bulging up as many laundries iron them. We could name dozens of fine points but we think you could get a much better idea by sending a trial package. May we have one this week?

LUCIUS LAWTON PROVES A PHENOM

Went Before the Traps Yesterday and Gave Garrett a Hard Run.

HAD SECOND HIGH AVERAGE

And It Was His First Appearance in a Contest "Bud" Lawton Took the Best Assortment of Poultry.

When the Pastimes Gun club of Colorado City, announced a turkey shoot for yesterday and invited the shots of Colorado Springs to participate, it was preparing for one of the best days of sport that the club has ever had.

L. P. Lawton, brother of A. J. Lawton, who long ago was recognized as one of the best shots in the state, went out in shooting clothes yesterday for the first time in a competition at the traps and proved by several odds the feature of the day. He ran up a high average percentage that was only two points behind John Garrett, leaving his brother, and Shemwell and Sheldon. In a three-cornered even break for third. He has had plenty of experience shooting rabbits and deer and all other kinds of game known to this section of the country, but it is evident that he is going to be very much in the game at the blue rock birds as well.

The day was raw and became decidedly more so before the shoot was done. This accounts for the numerous withdrawals shown in the score which appears below. In cases of a tie for the best score in any one event, the turkey went to the winner of the throw. A. J. Lawton took six of the birds away with him. Sheldon took five, Garrett, Shemwell, Nicolai and L. P. Lawton took four each, Fisher took three, Watson two and Ferris one. In the sweepstakes, where the best shooting of the day was done, Shemwell made a perfect run of about 65 birds, and Garrett broke 49 out of a possible 50.

The following is the score:

CALIFORNIA LIMITED TRAIN. Runs daily via the Santa Fe only 44 hours to Los Angeles—no extra cost for tickets on this train.

A Plucky Conductor.

"Those," said the ranchman, "who blame their failures to Providence or fate are cowards, and I'll tell you a story to prove it.

"It happened some years since, before the Northern Pacific had crossed the Rockies. The terminus that season was at Zenith City, and the class of travel which demanded luxury didn't come beyond Bismarck, where the company economically shunted the sleepers before rushing away from civilization.

"So the train which started from Zenith City one November morning was made up as usual of a passenger car, a box car, and the locomotive, while its quite unusual number of travelers was composed entirely of a party of 20 cowboys.

"They meant to go east for such a length of time as their cash would endure, and though it was burning in their pockets to be spent, they were resolved not to waste any of it in railway tickets—a resolve of which they informed the conductor when he came to them about half an hour out of Zenith City.

"He was a young fellow, as were the cowboys. Everything was young in Montana in those days. This chap, Lloyd, however, was slim built, with a color that changed like a girl's, and very queer he looked among the big, brown, brawny roughs who left their card-playing to swarm into the aisles or lean over the seats nearest those of their comrades who had answered to his request for tickets that they had none.

"'The company will take money for fares also,' said Lloyd, without glancing at the gathering crowd.

"'When the company can get it,' somebody chuckled.

"'Invariably,' Lloyd asserted, 'or the passenger who refuses to pay is put off the train.'

"'You don't say?. Suppose you try. Here are Tom and me to begin with, and the whole carful after us, for not one cent of our earnings is going into the moneybags of your swindling company.'

"'You will hurt me much more than the company,' he said, when he could get a hearing. 'I shall lose my place if I don't collect your fares.'

"'That's your lookout!'

"'We ain't going to tell your boss if you keep quiet.'

"There is a greed for torturing animals which disfigures most human nature, from Spanish bull baiters to those rail-fighters down east. So those bright eyes of Lloyd's didn't meet any more encouragement than did Father Noah's the first time he took a squint at the flood through one of the port-holes of the ark.

"Without speaking, he stood very pale and still for a moment, looking at the open pocketbook in his hand, while they all stared at him, grinning and jeering. Presently the color rushed back over his face, and, shutting his book with a snap, he went out of the car.

"He was followed by a roar of laughter and facetious yells.

"Then the crowd returned to poker-playing, some of them just a bit discontent with their victory and muttering that 20 to 1 was too big odds for any chap, especially a slim little chap with fists which couldn't hold their own against a kid.

"A quarter of an hour later the train stopped, not gradually, but with a jerk, which sent poker chips flying. There was a cowboy half out of every window in the car quicker than you could have cocked a pistol, for stations were seldom within 100 miles of each other in those days, and they all knew that this stop wasn't regular.

"Behind and before them the track stretched as far as they could see, while, on both sides the prairie spread away to the low edge of the gray sky. Not a sound or a movement except that of the locomotive moving at full speed.

"In came the cowboys' heads with a volley of hard swearing, and there stood Lloyd in the doorway, cooler than I am this instant, but holding a six-shooter.

"'You have just five minutes to make up your minds,' he said, and his voice was as steady as his eyes. 'Will you pay your fares as honest men or get out and tramp to the next settlement, 40 miles from here? Our engineer is within hail of us, and he will not come back unless I give him the order. Oh, you may murder me if you choose,' he cried, stepping farther into the car as half a dozen pistols were grabbed, 'but I don't mean to die alone, and at the sound of the first shot our engineer will be off to Bismarck.'

"For one long moment the prairie wasn't stiller than that carload of excited humanity. Then a big fellow broke into a laugh, took his pistols from his belt, and, laying them on a seat, walked toward Lloyd, holding out his empty fists.

"'Shake!' he said. 'That was a lone hand, and pluckily you played it. Boys,' he cried, 'a chap who can look straight down the muzzles of so many cowboy shooters for the sake of doing his duty—that chap will make the kind of a partner most of us want to yoke with if he will let us, eh?'

"'Well, sir, all crowds are alike, whether cattle or men—they follow a leader. Then the fares were paid as fast as Lloyd could take them. And that is the end of this story.

"'Where is Lloyd now?' in Helena, state senator from county."—(Baltimore World.

"This is the one presidential message in which no word as to civil service reform would have passed among referees without particular remark," notes the Springfield Republican. "Here is a man of deeds, we should have said, not words; a man of performance and not mere pledge or promise, to be forgotten or ignored or daily violated. But the president supplements a striking reform record of only about two months' duration with emphatic indorsement of the merit system and its extended application to the District of Columbia, the consular service and in other directions."

The Decision in the Pepke Case.

In adjudicating what is popularly known as the "fourteen diamond rings" case the supreme court has decided that upon the consummation of the treaty of Paris the Philippine islands became incorporated in the territory of the United States, and that in the absence of explicit and appropriate legislation the collection of duties upon merchandise imported into those islands from the United States or exported from those islands to the United States is without legal jurisdiction or validity.

This is not in conflict with the decision which determined the status of Puerto Rico. In the case of Puerto Rico a tariff had been established by act of congress and the power of congress to establish such a tariff was affirmed. But the Philippine islands are in a different category. Congress has sanctioned the civil commission by which the affairs of the Philippines are now being administered, and it has invested the president with certain powers of executive intervention, but it has not designated any duties to be collected on goods imported from the Philippines into the United States or vice versa, and in default of such designation the collection of such duties has been pronounced unwarranted.

This conclusion will presumably involve the repayment by the government of many thousands of dollars of duties which have been improperly collected, and it imposes upon congress the duty of regularizing the situation with the least possible delay. When congress shall have established a tariff for the Philippines there will be no question as to the constitutionality of such legislation. (Philadelphia Inquirer.

IN RICH PERSIAN COLORS.

Waist of silky panne velvet in Persian colorings. It is worn with a black and white stock. From Jno. Forsythe.

Impairment of hearing robs one of many of the joys of life, exposes to danger, interferes with capacity for usefulness, limits ability to transact business and earn a living. Many unpleasantly abandon their plans, ambitions and hope on account of loss of hearing.

In nearly every case of partial or complete deafness there is another feature that is many times more troublesome than the difficulty of hearing—the distracting head noises. These make such an impression on some as to almost drive them insane. The everlasting buzzing, ringing, snapping, rumble or roar, distracts them by day and prevents rest at night.

Nine cases out of ten of head noises and progressive hardness of hearing are due to catarrh of the middle ear or of the tube leading from it to the throat.

It should be understood and constantly borne in mind that to restore the hearing and silence the distracting noises a treatment is required that will allay inflammation in the eustachian tubes, reduce the congestion and swelling and stop the secretion of mucus so that the tubes will be and keep open for the free passage of air into the middle ear. No locally applied medicine will effectually do this; only a searching constitutional alterative and resolvent will cure catarrh in the deep recesses of the head.

Two acquaintances of the writer were run down and killed by the cars in one year. Both had catarrh of the head, which had extended up to the eustachian tubes, leading from the throat to the middle ear, and were quite hard of hearing. In both cases the coroner's jury decided that they came to their death because of inability to hear and heed signals that were intended for them. What happened to them is of frequent occurrence and in three cases out of four might have been prevented by the use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. These tablets cure all kinds of catarrh. They can be bought at any drug store for 50 cents a box.

That Stuart's Catarrh Tablets do effectually cure catarrh of the eustachian tubes and the head noises and deafness resulting therefrom is attested by the following:

Mrs. Jane Barlow, the famous modiste, says: "I finally had to give up my personal attention to my customers and in consequence many of them went elsewhere. I was in despair, for specialists seemed powerless to help me. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets cured me in just a little while so completely that now I hear as well as ever."

Army Surgeon C. S. Beverly became so deaf from catarrh that he was forced to resign his position and abandon his profession. He says: "Of course my inherent professional prejudice was hard to overcome, but knowing of the great benefit you had received, my dear general, through the use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, I used them. The great and almost immediate relief I experienced was truly astonishing. I am now entirely cured and have no fear of the disease returning. I go back to my old post next month."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have done it, do do it, will do it. Try them and be convinced. They are for sale at any drug store at 50 cents a box. It will put you to very little trouble or expense to prove what they will do for you. Send to F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for their free book about catarrh. A postal card will bring it. GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY.

Nothing is so interesting, nothing so restful and refreshing, as to see a man and woman who have lived together for a quarter of a century, starting down the shady slope of life, hand in hand, and happy or they were when she, with flushed face, lend love's old sweet song. Marriage is often a failure, because people marry without even giving the future a thought—marry and go to work and work without recreation till they are ready to die. I once heard a lady telling her daughter what to do when she was married. "Take a trip," she said; "get married in winter time when the world is cheerless and you are short on sunshine; take a trip to the southern states and turn winter into summer again; go to Little Rock, Hot Springs, or San Antonio, and get acquainted with your husband; watch him at the hotel, and see what he likes to eat, and how and when he likes it. It won't hurt you to study his comfort a little; it would make him love you more. But you must know something of him before you are married. Never marry a man who will laugh at the jokes on mothers-in-law at the minstrel show, or who will not buy his wedding four tickets over the Missouri Pacific Railway."

PERFUMES and TOILET WATERS. Of good quality and lasting odors, are the most acceptable requisites to my lady's toilet.

As a Christmas present these are particularly well suited, as the donor will be brought back to mind each time the article is used, and as long as the perfume lasts.

Get a good article so the remembrance of you will be pleasant thoughts. We have a larger line, a better assortment of high grade perfumes, and a lower scale of prices this year than ever before. We can please you in quality and price.
